Traveling in Morocco

Yasui Kazue (Japan)

I went from Narita Airport (transfer in Dubai) to Casablanca. The capital city is Rabat. The state religion is Islam. The currency of Morocco is Dirham and 1 dirham is about 11.8 yen.

I exchanged money at the local airport because I was unable to do it in Japan. The time difference is 9 hours behind Japan so when it's noon in Morocco, it is 9 pm in Japan.

There was endless sand and sky in the Sahara as far as I could see. Riding on a camel and watching the starry sky and sunrise was a masterpiece. The blue buildings of Chaouen were magnificent. I went sightseeing in the lively Jemaa El Fnaa Square in Marrakesh. The celebratory atmosphere went from morning till late night and there were delicious aromas from various stalls.

It was such an attractive place.
